

Ending domestic and sexual violence for ALL

HAWC | Houston Area Women's Center

About Us

OUR VISION

We envision the day when domestic and sexual violence are history rather than a part of our daily reality.

OUR MISSION

The Houston Area Women's Center works to end domestic and sexual violence and supports all in building safe and healthy lives through advocacy, counseling, education, shelter and support services. Our services are free, confidential and available to everyone.

OUR BELIEFS

We embrace the belief that all individuals should have equal access to political, legal, economic, and social rights. We strive to create a community that embraces diversity, recognizes oppression, promotes empowerment and supports the right of all individuals to self-determination.

DEAR HAWC FRIENDS,

Turn on the news, and nearly every day, reports of domestic and sexual violence permeate the headlines. The level of violence is epidemic. It could be easy to conclude that no one can do much about it.

And yet, thousands of women, children and men we serve every year transform from victims of sex trafficking, sexual assault, and domestic abuse into survivors living self-determined lives. Because of their courage, we are not only convinced that this crisis can be stopped, but also that it must. Their journey reminds us of the resilience of the human spirit; violence need not have the last word.

Over 40 years ago, when a small number of volunteers with a few borrowed phones began fielding calls from women escaping abuse, who would have imagined the Houston Area Women's Center (HAWC) as it is today? With a 120-bed shelter, 24/7 crisis response hotlines, counseling and year-round trauma-informed education and prevention programs, HAWC's breadth of services offers hope and healing to tens of thousands.

Crisis Response. Survivor Empowerment. Culture Change and Violence Prevention are how we work to end domestic and sexual violence. This ensures our message to survivors is clear:

It is not your fault.
You are not alone.
Help is available.

No agency does this alone. HAWC is part of a collaborative community consisting of law enforcement agencies, civic organizations, donors, and volunteers. Creating a future without violence takes everyone working together to recognize and interrupt the dynamics that lead to interpersonal violence. We want to say thank you for believing we can end domestic and sexual violence once and for all.

Until it stops,

“At HAWC, the counselors made me feel believed. They showed me there was assistance and made me realize I was not alone.”

WHAT WE DO:

CRISIS RESPONSE

From the first moment in which a survivor needs help until they gain a sense of stability, our crisis response team is there every step of the way. Clients access crisis support the moment they walk through our doors, call our 24/7 hotlines or go to the hospital. Highly trained advocates provide survivors with information and resources to assess their danger, make a safety plan, find safe harbor and link them to resources. Survivors fleeing violence and trafficking can find safety at HAWC’s 120-bed residential facility, the only one of its kind within the Houston Metropolitan Area.

SURVIVOR EMPOWERMENT

At HAWC, we believe survivors are the champions of their story and experience. We know violence impacts every aspect of a survivor’s life, which is why our services are comprehensive, client-centered and trauma-informed. Our services provide survivors of all ages with the tools they need to regain their confidence, develop financial independence, navigate the court system if they choose, and rebuild their lives. In addition to life-changing counseling, this means providing legal advocacy programs, case management, children’s services, career development, and housing support. Our services are free, confidential and available to everybody.

VIOLENCE PREVENTION & CULTURE CHANGE

Ultimately – HAWC educators and trainers provide youth and community members with age-appropriate information on how domestic and sexual violence impact our society and how they can break the cycle and support survivors. Our experts also collaborate with community partners in law enforcement, civic and social justice organizations to educate service providers throughout the city on how to provide trauma-informed care to survivors.

Ending domestic and sexual violence means shifting our culture in our communities and shaping the policies that impact survivors. HAWC's staff experts play vital roles in developing public awareness campaigns, serving on coalitions for change, and speaking with policymakers on the city and state level, thus ensuring survivors' needs are met and positive social change is achieved.
